From Saturday November 5. to Tuesday November 8. 1715.

St. James's, November 7. The following Addreſs has been preſented to His Majeſty.

An humble Addreſs of the Principal Inhabitants of the Borough of Great Marlow in the County of Bucks; preſented to his Majeſty by James Chaſe and Thomas Coventry, Eſqrs; two of his Majeſty's Deputy-Lieutenants for the County of Bucks, introduced by the Right Honourable the Earl of Bridgwater, Lord Lieutenant and Cuſtos Rotulorum of the ſaid County.

Which Addreſs His Majeſty was pleaſed to receive very graciouſly.

Stockholm, Oct. 5. On the 2d Inſtant in the Evening Lieutenant-General Lieven, who has the Direction of the Admiralty-Affairs at Carlſcrona, arrived here from thence to ſollicit Money for diſcharging the Debts which he has contracted this Year for the Service of the Navy; and Yeſterday the Senate was extraordinarily aſſembled, when Lieutenant-General Lieven was alſo preſent, and propoſed the ſending an immediate Order to Admiral Wachtmeiſter, who commands the Squadron of 8 Frigates which guard this Coaſt and City, for his repairing forthwith to Carlſcrona to reinforce Admiral Sparre's Fleet of 18 Men of War of the Line; but 'tis ſaid this Propoſition meets with ſome Difficulties. The Regiments that compoſed the Army which encamped in this Neighbourhood during the Summer, are now by the Prince of Heſſe's Order ſeparated and gone to their reſpective Winter-Quarters. Letters from Gottenburg of the 29th paſt bring an Account, that two Days before a Muſcovite Frigate of 20 Braſs Guns, called the Royal Tranſport, coming from Archangel, and bound for Petersburg, was driven aſhore within 3 Leagues of that Place by Streſs of Weather, the Captain and ſome of the Crew ſaving themſelves upon a Rock. The King's Attorney-General is this Week to exhibit Articles of Accuſation in the High Court of Juſtice, againſt ſuch of the Senators as conſented to the granting thoſe Permiſſions which were given to certain Ships of late Years to trade at Riga, Revel, and Petersbourg.

Ratisbon, Oct. 31. Our laſt Letters from Vienna tell us, that Count Thierheim, the Emperor's Commiſſary-General of War, was ſaid to be appointed by the Imperial Court to go and receive on the Frontiers a new Turkiſh Envoy, who is on his Way with a Train of near 200 Perſons; and to inform himſelf of the Propoſals he has in Commiſſion, which are reported to conſiſt in 3 Points. 1. To juſtify the War now carrying on by the Port againſt the Venetians, as the firſt Infringers of the Peace of Carlowitz. 2. To deſire the Emperor's Mediation, for compoſing their Differences. And, 3. To confirm and prolong the Truce with his Imperial Majeſty for another Term of Years. Some are of Opinion, that notwithſtanding the great Preparations of the Imperialiſts againſt the enſuing Campaign, the Rupture with the Turks is not a thing certain. M. Plettenberg the Miniſter of Munſter is arrived here, and Count Stahremberg, the firſt Ambaſſador of Auſtria to the Dyet, is expected in 3 Weeks.

Hambourg, Nov. 5. Letters from the Confederate Army in Pomerania of the 3d Inſtant relate, that the Troops deſigned for making a Deſcent on the Iſland of Rugen could not be all imbarked till the 4th. Theſe Letters add, that the Troops employed againſt Stralſund, had begun to fire on the Swediſh Outworks with 24 Cannon and 12 Mortars; that the Swedes had loſt ſeveral of their Officers, and that ſome of their Cannon were diſmounted. Yeſterday and all this Day we have had very ſtormy Weather, which perhaps may have delayed the Attempt propoſed to be made on the Iſland of Rugen.

Edinburgh, Nov. 3. Letters from the Camp at Sterling give an Account, that the Regiments of Clayton and Morriſon being arrived from Ireland, were ordered by the Duke of Argyle to ſtop at Glaſgow till they ſhould receive further Direction; and that his Grace had ſent a Detachment of 40 Dragoons and a Battallion of Foot to Kilſyth, and 200 Dragoons to Falkirk, to prevent any of the Rebels Southward of us from paſſing by the Head of the Forth, if in retiring from before General Carpenter they ſhould have taken that Way. But we have Advice, that Part of the Highland-Foot having deſerted, (of which 200 ſurrendred themſelves at Lamington to the Country-People) the reſt with the Northumberland Rebels are marched with great Precipitation and Diſorder into England.

Newcaſtle, Nov. 4. General Carpenter having Intelligence at Jedburgh on the 2d Inſtant at 10 in the Morning that the Rebels were gone from Lonton towards Brampton, marched over the Moors and got to Elleſdon late that Night; and this Morning he came hither with the 3 Regiments of Dragoons; Hotham's Regiment of Foot was ordered to march by the Way of Wooller, and is expected here to Morrow. We have Advice that on the 2d the Rebels proceeded from Brampton to Perith. General Carpenter will follow them on Sunday, taking with him the Dragoons only for the greater Expedition, and will leave Hotham's Regiment here.

Lancaſter, Nov. 4. The Scotch and Northumberland Rebels having left the Borders on the Approach of General Carpenter, and marched by Brampton to Perith, paſſed on to Appulby, where they arrived laſt Night, in Number about 600 Horſe and 900 Foot; they are expected this Night at Kendal. They are extreamly fatigued with their hard Marches, and are but indifferently armed, eſpecially the Horſe.

Cheſter,
